

LE PARADOU 2018

Description

This vineyard is grown west of Aix-en-Provence, in the late microclimate of the Sainte Victoire. This mountain and its fascinating way to catch the light has been immortalized by more than 70 paintings from Cézanne. It is at its foot that Picasso is buried.

Soil

Poor soils of limestone and clayey red sands located at an average of 300m.

Grapes

60% Cinsault – 30% Grenache – 10% Rolle (Vermentino)

Vinification

The harvest happens early in the morning. Grapes are cooled down before pressing at low pressure and then placed in stainless steel vats. The juices from the first pressings are kept at a low temperature for clarification. The alcoholic fermentation is maintained between 14 & 15°C (57& 59°F). The wine is racked after fermentation and filtered.

Tasting notes

Color : Pale bright pink color

Nose : Upfront fresh berries and citrus with floral notes

Mouth : Lively, fresh and energetic, a very balanced mid-bodied mouth with crisp notes of white flowers and exotic fruit, with a mineral and dry finish.

Food and Wine pairing

As an aperitif or with some Provençal specialties like ratatouille or “farcis” (stuffed vegetables), grilled fishes, or white meat either roasted or with a white sauce. It also matches very well with spicy cuisine or exotic notes.

Serve between 8 & 10°C

91/100 - Jeb Dunnuck.com (April 2019)

“This beauty is a quintessential rose and offers ripe yet vivid notes of honeydew melon, crisp white peach, limestone like minerality, and subtle salty, sea breeze-like aromas and flavors. It’s beautifully balanced, has terrific purity, high yet integrated acidity, and dry finish. It’s a no brainer and a beautiful dry Provençal rose.”
